

DOMINICAN JOURNAL OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY(DUJST)

Editor in Chief: Prof Jacinta A. Opara

Chairman, Editorial Board: Prof Gerhard Berchtold

CALL FOR PAPERS

Dominican Journal of Science and Technology (DUJST) is a biannual international peer-review publication of Dominican University, Ibadan-Nigeria. The journal is devoted to disseminating results of original research with thematic focus on science and technology. The aim of the journal is to promote the exchange of scientific ideas and to bring together researchers, technologists, scientists, engineers, academics and policy-makers. This is broadly defined to include work which makes a significant contribution to the understanding and analysis of varied issues in the context of globalization and sustainable development.

INSTRUCTION TO SUBMISSIONS

General Instructions

Authors are to submit manuscript that contain results from original researches that are not being considered for publication elsewhere or previously published. Manuscripts submitted for publication are peer reviewed to ensure high standard. Manuscripts should be clear and concise typed double spaced in MS Word format throughout with 1" wide margin on both sides. Manuscripts should be written in English language and should not exceed 12 pages. S.I. units and metric systems of measurement are acceptable. Latin words should be in italics.

Text: The text of the manuscript should appear in the following order. Title, authors name(s) and address (es), abstract, introduction, materials and methods, results, tables, figures, and plates, discussions, conclusion, recommendation(s), acknowledgement, references, (authors should please comply strictly to this format).

Title page: The title of the paper should be concise, informative and reflect the content and the main theme of the paper. The full names and addresses of authors (including names of institutions, country, email address and telephone numbers) should be stated. In the case of joint authorship or multiple authorship, the name and mailing address of the author to whom further correspondence would be referred should be indicated, otherwise, the name of the first author on the list is assumed to be the correspondence author, not corresponding author. Authors' names should start with surnames then initials of other names.

Introduction: This should contain mainly essential background information and important relevant references. The objectives of the work and its relevance or contribution must be clearly stated. The literature cited must be discussed to show the relationships between the published and the research study.

Materials and Methods: New methods and modifications of established ones should be described in detail. For the established and published methods, references must be made to the relevant publications.

Generally acceptable, scientific terms should be used. Discuss the factors, problems encountered and the solutions as they apply to your study. Due attention should be given to experimental design and statistical analysis of data where applicable.

Results: Table and figures should be kept to minimum. Type each table on a separate sheet of paper. Each table must be numbered in Arabic numerals and should contain brief title on top. Figures and plates should be of scanned reproducible quality.

Discussion: This section may be combined with results. Avoid repetition of methodology and results in your discussion. Discussion should indicate clearly the significance and implications of the results obtained. Relate your work to published studies.

Note: Results and discussion could be presented together. In such case, each result should be presented immediately by discussion specific to the result and this should continue until all the results have been presented and discussed

Conclusion: Conclusion should be drawn from the aim(s) and objectives of the work. It should not carry too much detail of the results.

Copyright: Upon acceptance of a paper, the author(s) have automatically transferred copyright of the paper to the Publisher. The transfer will ensure widest possible dissemination of information.

Author's contributions: Contribution by each author must be stated clearly. Contributors must have actively participated in the conduct or supervision of the research. Proof reading or writing the manuscript does not confer one an authorship of a manuscript.

Conflict of interest: There should not be any conflict of interest among the authors in whatever form.

Acknowledgement: Optional and should acknowledge support and assistance rendered by individual(s) or organizations.

References: The reference style should be the latest edition of APA format.

Proofs: Galley-proofs will be sent to the author of correspondence. They should be returned within 72 hours of receipt after correction. Corresponding Author will receive a copy of the book free of charge.

Privacy Statement: The names and email addresses entered in the publication site will be used exclusively for stated purposes and will not be made available for any other purpose or to any other party.

Submission & Review Procedure: The Editorial Board is interested to receive submissions related to a broad spectrum of science, technology, engineering and related fields. Researchers and practitioners are invited to submit not more than two manuscripts in MS Words. All submissions must include an abstract of not more than 250 words clearly explaining the thesis and concerns of the paper. Only Full length manuscripts with abstracts are accepted as submission. We welcome manuscripts throughout the year. Articles for publication will be peer reviewed by 3 reviewers to ensure standard and originality. The Board's decision on publishing a paper will be guided strictly by the reviewer's comments. The Review Sub-Committee will coordinate the review of all submissions on a double-blind review basis. Contributors/authors may also be requested to serve as reviewers for this journal. All enquiries and submissions must be made electronically by email to the Editor in Chief, DUJST: editor@dui.edu.ng and copy: jaopara007@gmail.com

Miscellaneous: The contents of the journal do not necessarily reflect the opinions or position of the Editorial Board, Dominican University, Ibadan-Nigeria or the Governing Council. Neither the institution or partner universities nor any person acting on its behalf is responsible for the use which may be made of the information in the publication. The views published in the journal are entirely those of the authors. The materials printed in our journal are copyright and should not be reproduced without the written permission. Any dispute that may arise relating to the journal shall be peacefully settled by the parties before an agreed Mediator. If mediation fails, then it shall go before an agreed Arbitrator using English Language and the applicable Laws of the Federal Republic of Nigeria